

What is the FESSE?

The FESSE, Family Engagement System Self-Evaluation, is a governing document on what a school, organization, and/or association should be doing in order to maximize their family engagement.

Four Pillars of High Quality Family Engagement

Pillar 1:

Build relationships with families

Pillar 2:

Meet the needs of families and children

Pillar 3:

Establish effective communication

Pillar 4:

Embrace cultural connections

Why use the FESSE?

- to establish and maintain relationships
- to address the children and families' basic needs
- to provide community resources
- to include formal and informal meetings
- to create multiple opportunities to connect
- to include activities that have cultural significance
- to create culturally relevant environments
